

ALg

Organic matcha, grown in Kyoto.

Certified organic tea from Wazuka — the hill town that has grown Uji tea for eight centuries.

Organic matcha is easy to find. Organic matcha from Kyoto is not.

Almost every certified-organic matcha on the market today is grown well outside the Uji region. ALg is the exception: organic-certified tea from Wazuka in Kyoto, from the same growers who supply our ceremonial line — offered at a price that works for lattes, blends and everyday retail.

Kyoto, certified organic

The origin story your customers already trust, with organic certification on the pack to back it.

A working price point

Our organic Kyoto ceremonial lots start at $450/kg. ALg carries the same origin and certification at $72.

4,000 kg secured

Enough of the season held back to run a 200 kg+ monthly programme without a mid-year recipe change.

Built for

Organic retail lines. Certified on pack, with a Kyoto origin that earns its shelf price.

Café latte programmes. Autumn Okumidori and Yabukita — colour and body that hold through milk.

White label. Shipped unbranded. Yours is the only name on the tin.

Volume contracts. Farm-direct from 80+ partner farms, with pricing fixed for the term.

New-season supply opens in December.

Volume can be reserved ahead of the season — samples from November, or a comparable organic lot sooner.

Prices are EXW per kilogram; AUD is indicative and moves with the exchange rate. Shipping (air) approx. A$21/kg, lower as volumes grow. Lead time approx. 3–4 weeks, milled to order. Organic certificate, Certificate of Origin, Healthcare Certificate and COA issued per lot on request.
