

Cf

Premium matcha, built for volume.

The grade that carries your bakes, your blends and your busiest hours — without carrying a ceremonial price.

Most of the matcha you go through isn't the matcha you whisk.

It goes into the cake, the cookie, the iced latte, the flavoured blend. Cf is built for exactly that work: a Kagoshima premium grade with the colour and body to survive heat, dairy and sugar — priced so the cost per serve still makes sense at two hundred cups a day.

Colour that survives the bake

Holds its green through heat and through milk — the usual failure point when a cheaper grade goes into a bake or an iced drink.

Costed per serve

At roughly 2 g a serve, Cf lands well under the fruit purees and syrups already on your bench — while lifting colour and flavour.
